BISONS WERE SHUT OUT

GEAR PITCHED GREAT BALL AND HAD PERFECT SUPPORT.

Visitors Were Never Dangerous and There Were Many Brilliant Plays -Rothfuss Saved the Day by a Long Throw Home.

There was a pursuit race on Manning's lot yesterday that would have made the cle riders at the Velodrome look tired. The race was between nine Buffalos and nine men in blue. The Buffalos were out-distanced at every stage of the race, and could not catch the men. And the reason? Because the Gear was too much for them. Time and time again the mad Buffalos charged and bellowed, each one making a desperate effort to reach a certain slab of Diggins, e. white marble that was a tombstone for them. They rapped repeatedly for admission, but it was of little avail and at the finish thy found themselves shut out enirely. They were certainly barred out, and his honor, Judge Gear, held the key to the ombination, and he was supported in magnificent style by his associates.

The game yesterday was not one of those of the games that have been played on the field. It was a case of grab all the runs in sight instead of permitting the visitors to hold the lead until the last few minutes of the game. The Blues fought desperately to hold the Bisons down, although it was a foregone conclusion that the game was a cinch for Kansas City. Everybody played that snappy hustling kind of a game that resembled the pennant winning gait of last

Blues, and the particularly bright stars were Gear, Rothfuss and Wilson. Gear was in great form. He allowed the visitors to land effectively but eight times and even then the hits were scattered. The Bisons were able to load the bases up several times but the judge was right there and brought all the base running to a stand-still before the visitors could see the plate with a long distance telescope. The hit of the whole show was a marvelous throw to the plate that was made by Rothfuss, who was far out in the left garden.

Diggins had just smashed a twobagger and was attempting to score on a single to left that was made by Amole, but Rothfuss shot the ball home like it had been sent from a cannon, and the credit for the shutout is largely due to Rothfuss.

A mole or some sort of an animal burrowed around on Manning's garden in a desperate attempt to do some damage to anything that came within reach, but the ex-Schalor was easy for the Blues. They killed him off with twelve slugs, one of them a triple, and two of them doubles. Again did "Rig Bill" come to the front with his little ciub and transfer the ball to a remote corner of the back lot for three bases. Gettman found the ball for a couple, as did Hulen, in the ninth inning. The Blues borrowed a bunch of hits from Amole in the eighth inning. Singles were made in rapid succession by Ganzel, Roth-fuss. Miller and Raymer. Of these Leave. The Blues borrowed a bunch of hits from Amole in the eighth inning. Singles were made in rapid succession by Ganzel, Rothfuss, Miller and Raymer. Of these, Ganzel and Rothfuss scored. The fielding of Manning's men was far above par. Reilly is clearly the best third baseman that has been on that corner of the diamond for many a day. He was all over his end of the lot, and his throws to first were always sure to land in the right place. Amole sent a hard one to Gettman in the fourth inning and the center fielder calmly pulled the sizzing thing out of the air with his left, every man on the home team played like a veteran, and the only error that was made was credited to Hulen, but even his fumble was almost excusable, as the ball was one of those warm ones that are difficult to handle. The team work of the Blues showed up in great style yesterday. The visitors threatened to make things excit ing on several occasions, but when the crucial test came the Blues were equal to every emergency and pulled out of several had holes.

Southampton. As she beat up Southampton water, with gaff topsail, main sail and foresail, she developed wonderful speed, although not after anything definite regarding pace, finally anchoring off Hyther where she remains until to-morrow, when she will take another spin, accompanied by the Iverna.

A member of the crew said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"The Shamrock will do what she is built for and will beat the Yankee. She sailed admirably, without a hitch, and answered admirably, without a hitch, and answered her helm to perfection, which is one of the greatest considerations. WESTERN OFFICIALS TO CONFER ON TUESDAY IN ST. LOUIS.

Much Discussed Missouri River Rate Question Will Again Be Up-Plans for Peace and Protection in Case of Another Rate War.

The July conference of the Western officials will be held on next Tuesday at the Southern hotel, St. Louis. The interstate commerce commission will be represented is it has been in the past, but will not take more than an informal interest in the meeting. The railroad officials and the commissioners are attempting to get closer ogether in their efforts to solve the rate problems and to secure adherence to pub ished tariffs, at the same time strictly observing the law in every respect. esults have been obtained from these meetings, conditions having improved very materially since the first of the year. The subect which will probably receive he most attention at St. Louis will be the threatened rate war in freight traffic on ecount of the Missouri river rate situation. Efforts will, of course, be in the direction of maintaining peace and to avoid the loss of revenue. After all plans for preserving peace have been discussed, the ontingency of war will be considered from contingency of war will be considered from a protective standpoint. It is useless to deny that the action of the Gulf lines in the conference held in New York recently is decidedly a disturbing element when viewed from the standpoint of the east bound roads.
Should the fight come, strong retaliatory measures will be taken against the Gulf lines, and then would come a merry old war with the chances that it would affect the entire Southwest. The lines with South water compensations are considered to the compensation of the compe the entire Southwest. The lines with South water connections are apparently unshaken in the position they have taken.

At present the trouble is confined to the 80 cent scale, but it is not expected that former conditions can be restored without a sacrifice of revenue that will seriously cut into the earnings of a year marked, for the first half, with great prosperity.

possible that the meeting will last the entire week.

From the first the Grand Trunk has shown little interest in the negotiations and on top of this comes the report from Chicago last evening that the higher officials of all the Vanderbilt lines left for their homes yesterday, having turned over their interests to the care of their subordinates, and that they will not return to the meeting. Some interesting developments are promised in this conference during the week.

Southwestern Traffic Changes. The following changes in interstate Texas rates have been promulgated by the South-western bureau, in accordance with indi-

Northern Pacific Contract Let. MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 9.—A Tacoma, Wash., special to the Times says:
The contract for building the Palmer-Auburn cutoff of the Northern Pacific was let yesterday to R. C. Henry, of Scattle, and Nelson Bennett, of Tacoma. The contract price for building the twenty-two miles of track is understood to be about $400,000. Some of the work is of a very difficult nature. The contractors have until November to complete the work. It is expected they will put 500 men at work within a few weeks if they can get them. The cutoff will become a part of the main line, shortening the distance eight miles to Tacoma, and nearly forty to Scattle.

Charge Unfair Discriminations. Charge Unfair Discriminations.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 9.—A West Superlor, Wis., special to the Times says: The grain firm of McGuire & Atwood, of this city, has filed charges with Railroad Commissioner Graham T. Rice, of Wisconsin, against the Wisconsin Central railroad. The complaint of the firm is that there are unfair discriminations in the matter of freight charges, and they desire them remedied under the laws of this state. A hearing will be held in this city on July 28 before Deputy Railroad Commissioner Stack.

Military Rates Considered.

Military rates are occupying the attention of members of the Western Passenger Association. It is expected that there will be a very large movement of men destined for the Philippines under the call of President McKinley for volunteers, and a good deal of anxiety is expressed lest the sharp competition for this business should cause rates to go so low that the business will be carried at an actual loss to the roads. The object of to-day's meeting is the adoption of means by which rates for this business will be maintained strictly at normal.

Switch Shanty Secrets.

Central Passenger Association roads have announced a rate of one fare for the round trip for the Knights of Columbus outing at Put-in-Bay, August 2 to 5.

The Central Association of Railway Officers will meet in St. Louis on Tuesday, July 18. They will be shown over the St.

The latest railroad report is that a company headed by Edwin Woods, of Chicago, has been organized to build a railroad from Memphis to Knoxville. Mr. Woods writes a Knoxville man that he has disposed of $12,000,000 worth of construction bonds to Boston capitalists. He says there will be a bee line between the two cities and it will be running in two years. It is styled the Tennessee, Eastern & Western railway.

The Arkansas railroad commission has received from the Pacific Express Company a tariff schedule on fish from Nettleton to Hot Springs, increasing the rate from $1.50 to $2.10. A communication was at once sent to the company to the effect that their action was disapproved. Attention was called to the order of June 6, to the effect that no tariffs effective on that date could be increased by approval of the commission until the commission had first been notified and the necessity and reasonableness of the increase shown.

Rules and regulations for the reorganized Western Passenger Association have been prepared and may be almost considered adopted. They have all been adopted for further consideration by one or two for further consideration by one or troads. They are likely to be adopted in t end, however, and as soon as they are the work of revision, which has occupied man months, will be completed. The reorganize association has re-elected the tive committee, of which James of the Alton road, is chairman.
